After graduation from Uppsala University I engaged in toxicology research before becoming one of the original staff members of the Uppsala Monitoring Centre (UMC) in 1978. At UMC I have held many posts, most of them related to pharmacovigilance training, capacity building and networking within the expanding WHO Programme for International Drug Monitoring. In these activities I have worked in close collaboration with WHO Headquarters and have done many consultancy visits in countries. I managed the UMC international pharmacovigilance training courses 1993-2009 and have contributed to pharmacovigilance training in 65 countries in 5 continents. I was the editor of the Uppsala Reports newsletter 1996-2015, Scientific Coordinator of the EU funded Monitoring Medicines project in a 11-member consortium 2009-2013. I was a member of the WHO Global Vaccine Safety Initiative (GVSI) Strategic Priority Group 2012-2015. Guest professor at China FDA Institute of Executive Development 2012 – 2015. Honorary faculty member, JSS Collage of Pharmacy, Mysore, India 2014- present
